WHO IS NORMAL?
By Dr. Bill Suro

Because the dramatic cases are more press worthy, outsiders sometimes get the idea that all we deal with are the seriously injured and rescues from terrible situations. I have been asked whether all the cats and dogs up for adoption are rehabilitation cases. “Don’t you have any adoptions that are normal?”

I will leave that argument about what is “normal” for another day. Instead I will bring up again a situation that the MaxFund handled; I wrote about it in this newsletter quite a few years ago but I can’t ever get it completely out of my mind. I suppose that the man in this case is considered “normal” by his neighbors. Or is it an abnormal neighborhood.

The MaxFund was called because a small shelter in Utah wanted to ensure that this particular dog got to a no-kill shelter. In a nutshell the story went that a dog owner wanted to get rid of his young healthy dog for some reason that we will never know. But he didn’t want to pay for euthanasia, so he took it out back and whacked the dog in the head with a piece of firewood.

The poor dog was not killed but lay there unconscious and obviously breathing. The man solved this dilemma by burying the dog under a big pile of recently cut firewood. It makes sense doesn’t it? He was going to make that pile anyway, and this would not only solve the problem but also cover up the evidence.

Luckily the dog recovered from his concussion in time to start whining and howling loud enough to be heard by a pedestrian on a nearby trail. This guy walked on by, but when the noises still were audible when he returned from town, he rescued the dog.

The MaxFund found that the poor dog had not suffered any permanent damage so all we had to do was to bring it back to health from exposure and going without food and water for some extended time. He had plenty of reasons to be distrustful of people, but he wasn’t. He was easily adopted soon after his recovery.

After this passage of time, I have forgotten the name we gave this dog; forgive me for just calling him “the dog.” I’ll never forget this example of human’s inhumanity.

Most of MaxFund’s “normal” adoptees are less dramatic, although they are frequently tragic on the human side. A few days ago, four dogs were relinquished to the MaxFund because their owner was killed in a nasty auto accident. People move, divorce, or whatever. Our job is to make sure that the pet doesn’t end up the innocent victim no matter what the circumstance.

“If you are always trying to be normal, you will never know how amazing you can be.”
~Maya Angelou
FROM THE WORLD OF GUS

By Gus Suro

Would you believe it? I got fan mail. Not Dad or Mom, but an ol’ country dog like me. Well, it’s really not fan mail; it’s a sympathy card for my loss of Gypsy, but it’s written to me from someone that I don’t think I ever met. Is that something or what?

I overheard Mom and Dad talking about taking a dog home from MaxFund. They are going to “foster” him at first. Apparently this means take care of a MaxFund dog or cat that has some problem that requires special care. This guy came from a regular shelter in Texas where his time was up; they couldn’t keep him around anymore. He has a problem called heartworms. That sounds terrible, and apparently is just that: big worms living in the heart that will probably kill him if not treated. The foster has to keep him quiet and inactive during treatment and recovery time so that the worms being killed by the medicine don’t leave the heart all at once and clog things up. That’s the best that I understand it. Ask the MaxFund or your vet.

Anyway, Mom and Dad want to adopt him when he gets through this but are afraid to because they are old and he is young. Once again I really don’t understand the problem. I know how I would vote if I had one. If you have any thoughts on this would you write me, care of the MaxFund? I could use some more fan mail. I won’t write you back though; it’s enough problem holding a pencil for one article and cartoon per month. Just know I will appreciate the mail and your advice.

Dear Gus,

Mom reads your column in PawPrints to me.

I am sorry your big sister, Gypsy, is gone. You must feel lost without her.

Ask Mom or Dad to take you to the dog park. You can make new friends there. Mom takes me to the Bear Creek dog park in Colorado Springs once a week. It is a fun place.

I get an allowance for chasing squirrels out of our back yard. I am sending some money as a memorial to Gypsy. I hope you will be feeling better soon.

Your friend,
Andy Rose
SURPRISES

Yes, these last few months have certainly been full of surprises. Gizmo’s mom and dad brought home what I think is a baby 2 legger. I say think because I have not seen its legs and all they do is carry it around. By now most 4 leggers are walking, at least fairly well; maybe not jumping but at least walking some. They have given it a name, Olivia, and I am told it is a girl. She makes the strangest sounds, and Gizmo is not sure about her. The dogs on the other hand keep trying to wash her. You would think her mother would be doing all the bathing but Loki and Lexi don’t seem to think she is doing a very good job. On the other hand, the dogs want to wash everything – it must be a dog fetish. I however have sniffed her several times and she does smell different from the other 2 leggers I have met but she just lays there and does not do anything interesting. But there must be something special about her because if she cries you should see how fast everyone moves. I may have to investigate this crying thing and see if I can learn to do it, because when she does it she gets food right away, not just at special times like the rest of us.

I don’t know if I mentioned it last year but Mom and Dad bought Gizmo and me one of those water dishes that the water comes out of the top and then goes into a bowl. Well, Gizmo just loves it! For me, well, it is OK. I prefer to drink out of the bowl but when I do that it gets my fur wet from the falling water. I do not particularly like that so I have learned to drink out of the top instead. I prefer to go upstairs and drink out of the dogs water dish (no moving water). Gizmo says “yuk” because he claims it has dog spit in the water. I think he is just nuts. At least this way my handsome long fur stays dry.

I just realized that this was supposed to be Gizmo’s turn to write but he would never tell about the things he does. If he is nice to me I will allow him to do this next month. Hope you have a wonderful Christmas and a great New Year.

Dear MaxFund,

We got to adopt Layla today... YAY!!!

We heard there was a way to give updates on how she is doing at the MaxFund web site, but I am not seeing it. I know you guys really liked having her there a lot, so thanks so much for letting us take her home. She seems to be feeling right at home already as she is sleeping soundly in her new bed.

Sorry for the lighting in the photo, but I did not want to wake her :)

Thanks so much for all you guys do!
-Don and Ember Crooks

Dear MaxFund,

I am writing to let you know that Griffin’s (Wyndell’s) transition into life with me is going very smooth. We are having tons of fun and are a perfect fit for one another. He is tremendously intelligent, has a beautiful spirit, and an amazing heart. His social skills with people and other dogs are fantastic. The first time I met him, I knew there was something very unique, very intuitive about him and his energy. And now to get to experience all of this every moment...I am so grateful. He is a quick-learner, and is doing very well on leash work and commands. He has the best of everything at home, including super-clean organic dog food, durable toys, plush blankets, a king-size bed to sleep in with me, an open floor plan to play around in, a 24-hour dog park in our building...and a neighborhood that is one of Denver’s best for canines. We are getting exercise sessions throughout the entire day and evening. He also loves riding around in the car as my co-pilot. Thank you again for facilitating the beginning of our excellent lives together. I am so grateful.

Billy Riesing

Dear MaxFund,

I don’t know if anyone is still there that remembers Rumpelstiltskin, a black male Chow Chow. We adopted him Thanksgiving 2009. He is a wonderful member of the family and really enjoying life. Wanted to send you a picture of him with his other forever home rescue buddy Foxy. Thank you for all you do.

Renate Fiedler
Dear MaxFund

Bailey is doing great. Went back to her original name, I liked it better :) I really could not be any happier that she is in my life. After a couple days of getting used to a new life she has settled in great! She has already conquered her first 14er and turns out she is quite a water dog. I cant make it around Wash Park without her coming to a dead stop and not moving till she gets to run up and down the little creek they have there.I was going to swing by when I took her to the clinic for her rabies shot but then I didn't want to traumatize her. Attached are some pics of her last adventure up Mt Sherman.

MEET SOME MAXFUND DOGS

By Ilene Johnson

KIKI

Honestly, what could be cuter than a Chihuahua in a pirate hat? Kiki would have been quite the hit at Halloween. This handsome little boy with gorgeous dark eyes is a one year old Chihuahua mix who was born in October 2014.

Kiki has got it going on. He absolutely adores people, and loves nothing more than to be held and petted, so he is a perfect lap dog. He also loves other small dogs, and really enjoys his play groups.

Kiki has a condition called Addison's disease, and takes medicine daily, as well as a monthly injection. Blood work is needed every six months to monitor his electrolyte levels. The folks at the MaxFund Wellness Center can answer questions about Kiki - just give them a call at 303-595-0532. However, you can see for yourself that Kiki is quite the energetic little guy. In fact, you can see him in action with a couple of his buddies in the video that is found under his bio on the MaxFund website. Click on the link, and see what a cutie he is.

Kiki is so ready to find his forever home. He may need a bit of basic training, but how fun it will be to continue his higher education together! So please come meet this handsome little boy with gorgeous dark eyes, and make his dreams come true.

MEET RITA

Rita is a gorgeous terrier mix who was born in 2009. She came to MaxFund as a stray, so we don't know anything about her history. We do know, however, that this little girl is quite the lover - she loves to sit on laps, and loves to be petted. So she is clearly the perfect lap dog. She also adores going on walks, and she is a real joy to walk, as she walks so nicely on her leash.

Rita can initially be a bit picky about other dogs, but I have seen her go from unsure to friendly in about a minute! However, she may not mind being an "only dog," and in any event, she promises to give you all the canine love you could possibly need.

Rita is taking heart medication, but that does not appear to slow her down! Rita can be seen in all of her gorgeousness in her video on MaxFund's website, under her bio. She shows off her beautiful smile, and happy wagging tail. She is truly a sight to behold.

Please come meet this gorgeous girl, so that she can find her forever home. And she promises to be your perfect lap dog!

MEET TETRIS

EXCELLENT DOG ALERT!!! Tetris truly is one excellent boy. This adorable Border Collie mix was born in December 2014. There are so many excellent things about him. Tetris is attentive, playful, smart, and also an affectionate cuddle-bug. I can also attest to the fact that he is a great kisser.

This sweet youngster loves to play, and is very good at playing fetch with tennis balls, as well as playing Frisbee. He is really fun to play with, and to take for walks. Perhaps there could be agility activities in his future?

Border Collies are a very special breed that are known for their intelligence and obedience. Tetris watches you with his big brown eyes when you talk to him, and you can tell that he is carefully listening to everything that you say. Tetris will look to his future home to make sure that he is a stand-up canine citizen. He is still a youngster, and will readily learn basic obedience and training. He knows some commands already (his is beyond excellent at "sit"), and is ready to learn far more. Tetris is so very eager to please that training him will be great fun.

Tetris has a seizure condition that is regulated with medication, and with his medication, is a very stable and happy little boy.

Tetris also loves kids, other dogs, and gets along just fine with cats. What more could you ask for?

You can see Tetris in action in his video. Just click on the link under his bio on the MaxFund website. This adorable boy can be seen playing with a ball, and running happily around, all to some pretty jazzy music.

Please come and meet Tetris. He will be a loving, loyal and excellent addition to your home.
